

Living on Borrowed Time

Many people I find do not know why they are here on earth and what they are suppose to be doing here. There are of course many avenues which one can take and always the best way to live and be according to them. The world is filled with people who subscribe to the notion of putting themselves first, rather than being a servant of others, but more so a Servant of Jesus, their true and only savior from this world.

You see God gives us only a few years of life to figure everything out and live by his law. Life is a gift and what we do with it matters. For many what matters has little to do with God and his law. It amazes me how many people believe that they are going to go to heaven or some kind of paradise, but never consider that what they are doing is actually going to take them to Hell. Jesus told us if you love me, obey my laws. All of the laws of God are meant to maintain our relationship with God and to promote love among us. The problem is many people only love themselves and even then, they may not even love themselves, but love to do harm to others and be evil as possible.

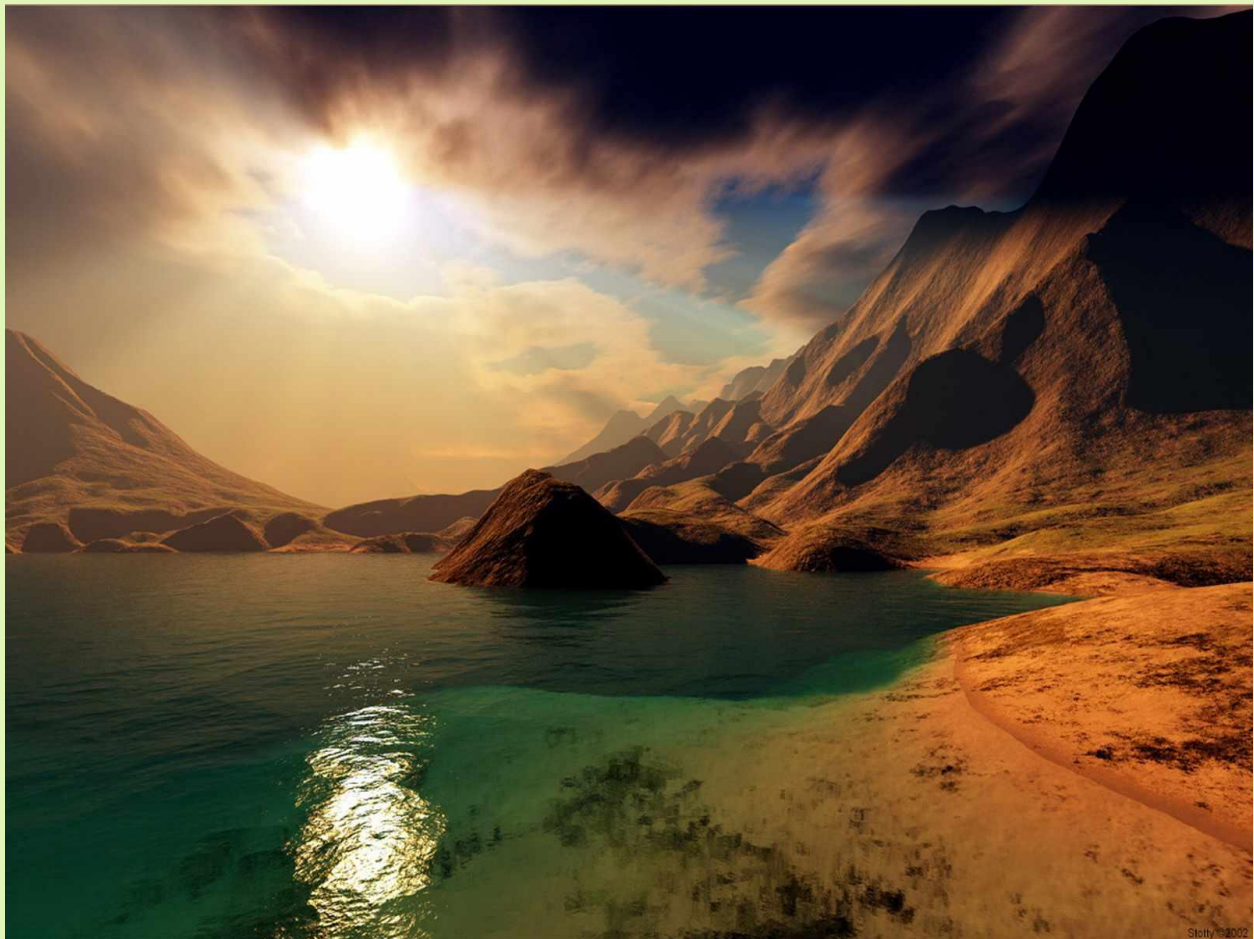

Truly those of us that do love Jesus and follow him in his law, we are like sheep among the wolves. The world is a very dangerous place for those of us that truly follow Jesus and his law. It is because Satan is the Prince of this world and he hates God and even more so his creation. To destroy his children is upmost in his mind and our only protection comes from God's word and his intervention from time to time.

So here's the deal. You are living on borrowed time as you are not the creator of all that exists and whatever you do, you cannot simply press rewind and try better, what is done is done. You have to live with it and so you shall. It isn't until you are judged and enter into heaven that God will wipe away all your tears, hence your horrible memories of this place and all the wrongs you may endured or dished out in some cases and feel remorse for. You see if you repent of sinning and truly in your heart love God, then his law is written upon your heart and it is through this love that you know right from wrong.

Many people unfortunately turn to the Justice System, rather than God when bad things happen to them and the Justice System is corrupt beyond belief, yet people will bow to a Judge and worship him and accept his or her decisions as if they had the power of the Creator behind them, which is sad in so many ways. Man was never to be a judge of man. The Legal System is nothing more than a snake pit filled with thieves, that from time to time will do the right thing, but mostly it is about extracting the most amount of money from the people in question as efficiently and ruthlessly as possible.

If you look at manmade law, you will find millions of them all around the world, which have little to do with God's Law, but rather the edification of some ruler (Caesar or the Pope), in which they are seen as god among men, just as a Judge is viewed and treated as a god in his court, wielding tremendous power and authority, which can be completely proven to be without any merit or righteousness. You see their God is a dead God, hence represented in dead law written in all capital letter fiction, play script.

So in essence you find yourself in Court or doing something related to LAW, you are dealing with things that do not exist in truth. There can be no rights given to the dead as they are dead, yet Countries, which are dead fictions (Corpses called Corporations in truth), have been given all authority over their subjects, by drawing a line on a map of which no one ever gave them authority to do as the earth belongs to our Heavenly Father Yahweh , Jesus Christ and the Holy Spirit. The Legal System is a Pagan system, which follows Satan's Laws and forms of Justice, not God's.

In Revelations it explains that Heaven is for those that overcome. Our purpose on earth is to overcome sin and live by God's Laws, which Satan has put so many road blocks too and created so much pain or even death for those that choose Yahweh our living God, over him the god of death as it were. You see Satan actually believes in God and knows that if he can get you to not follow God and his law, which you will go to Hell and be destroyed. Nothing new under the sun here, just the way it is.

So Satan makes a completely unjust world where those that worship him are given material wealth and power in the world and those that don't are killed off or made to live difficult or basically a life of suffering. In so many ways, God suffered and died for our sins, beyond any measure I would add. Sin leads to death, for the wages of sin is death as it says in the Bible. It really matters little how much you are tortured here or made to suffer for your belief in Jesus and his Law, it matters only where you go after you die. The Apostles and millions of people the Catholic Church murdered using extreme torture along with Rome, made that abundantly clear.

We are currently in the last days before Jesus returns, but still much needs to happen I think before we will see that. When it does happen though, everyone will be held to account for what they did while they were here. You can't press rewind and do the right things, it is up to you to live each day as it is, a gift of life to you from God. He wanted us to be holy people, to worship him alone and love him by following his law. I can't say you should not obey laws of man, but do so as far as you can, so long as they don't conflict with God's laws.

Babylon Exists today because God is allowing it too. For those who do not want to follow him, he offers them an alternative to follow Satan and his Babylonian control system. The reward for following Jesus and his law is very great. Those that don't find their reward in material wealth and power perhaps on earth along with all the sin and evil they care to do, but lots of demons await them in Hell, which are more than happy to love them the same way they loved others and then some.

Recently I joined an online dating site. I have never been married and with all the things that have happened to me in my life, it has been very difficult for me to find someone, let alone get married. After looking at a couple hundred profiles, I noticed not one woman mentioned God. Many were divorced or separated. A few were like me never been married, but most drank or smoked and wanted more than anything to be worshiped above all things. The materialistic nature of some women made me cringe. It was an eye opener, but I wasn't surprised at all. Many people profess to be Christians, but never read the Bible to find out that Paul told us that we should not be calling ourselves Christians in the first place.

By God's law, he did not want us to marry those who were divorced, nor those who got a divorce to remarry. It is simply death do us part, yet few people realize that they make a vow to God, they best keep it. Jesus told us if you find something unclean with your wife or husband, you simply write them a letter which states you are divorcing them. There is no need for the Courts or Custody battles, the Children belong to the Husband according to the Bible. The material wealth is split between the two in so much that it is fair for both, not hoarding of everything and getting alimony, which is unjust and unfair in most cases for the man as the Courts destroys the husband's ability to exist, while putting the woman on a pedestal of great authority and power. This is a Pagan tradition for the most part.

Consider that when Adam and Eve were created by God, they both had eternal life and dominion on the earth. We still hold dominion over all the earth, but we can only hold it through our belief and trust in God. Satan tries in every way possible to usurp our dominion and destroy us, but when we put God between Satan and ourselves, he loses every time. It is a struggle against Principalities, powers and spiritual wickedness in high places. You are living on borrowed time here. God could have easily just allowed us to be destroyed and let Satan have his way, but he loved us. God loved us so much he sent his only begotten son, Jesus to save us. All he asks of us is to love him and each other. To love him is to follow his laws. The 10 Commandments and the Law that Jesus gave us are the primary laws, where we also learn about righteousness and loving others through reading the Bible. There is great wisdom within the Bible to guide us and teach us. If you ever die for standing up for God and his ways, you are saved and God will give you life. Those that choose not to follow God will only find death. Thus those that die for God will find life and those who flee from death to save themselves in their sin, will only find death.

Just some thoughts I wanted to share.
